N&J Limited of Gravesend, Kent, were successfully employed by Hochtief-Murphy JV on Channel Tunnel Rail Link Contract 320 as a Labour-Only Subcontractor, supplying reliable and multi-disciplined operatives, such as scaffolders, pipe-layers, labourers, forklift drivers, concrete finishers, and gangers.

Colas Ltd has used and continues to use N&J Ltd for the supply of skilled and semi skilled labour on our civils construction sites.

We have found that the gangs supplied to us are well trained, competent and motivated. They work well with the minimum of supervision in a safe and efficient manner. We have no hesitation in recommending N&J for similar work.

N&J have supplied labour for Hochtief (UK) Construction on the technically challenging Paddington Bridge Project since November 2003. We have had up to a maximum of 15 personnel on site at one time, our experience with them has shown that their staff are reliable and hard working. They have also been able to accommodate peaks and demands in labour requirements at short notice. In addition to supplying labour to ourselves they have also assisted our subcontractors where requested. They have provided foremen/gangers within the teams and have remained dedicated throughout the three year Project.

I have worked with N & J on previous projects, the last of which was the A406 Lea Valley Viaduct in North London in 1997. I found them to be professional, reliable and provide good quality work. I have known the director Mr M Cheema for many years and found him to be honest and helpful.
